Yellow warning
Wind

Between 12:00 Fri 26 Nov 2021 and
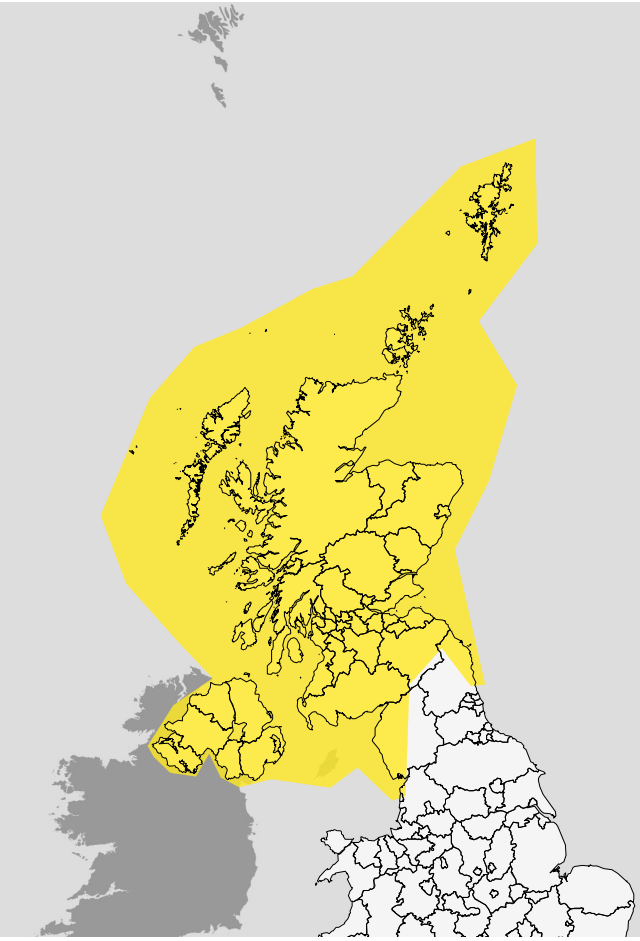
23:59 Fri 26 Nov 2021



Potential for a period of very strong winds to develop across northern Scotland on Friday afternoon then extend south during the evening.

What to expect

- Some delays to road, rail, air and ferry transport are likely
- There is a slight chance of some damage to buildings, such as tiles blown from roofs
- There is a small chance that some roads and bridges could close
- There is a slight chance that power cuts may occur, with the potential to affect other services, such as mobile phone coverage

Further details

The strongest winds will arrive across northern Scotland during Friday afternoon before developing further south through the evening across the rest of Scotland, Northern Ireland and some exposed coasts of northern England.

The location and strength of the very strongest winds remains uncertain. However, gusts seem likely to reach 50 to 60 mph widely, with 70 to 80 mph possible in coastal locations, particularly in parts of Scotland.

Very low likelihood of medium impacts
